Simple Measurement Instructions

Your measurements should be taken carefully by some one else, according to the diagrams shown here. Always look over your order before mailing to make sure that you have given us all the measurements required.

Women's, Misses', Children's Clothing

Our garments are so well tailored that it is easy to be fitted, if you will follow these directions exactly.

Do not take the measurements yourself.

Use an accurate tape line which does not stretch and take the measurements snugly but not too tight over a waist or skirt.

MAKE NO ALLOWANCE WHATEVER FOR FULLNESS. WE DO THAT.

BUST MEASURE: Over a tightly fitting waist or dress, place tape line entirely around the body, well up across the shoulders in back, close up under the arms, and have it meet across the fullest part of the bust. If necessary, pin tape at back to prevent slipping down.

WAIST MEASURE: For either regulation waist-band or girdle-top skirts measure all around smallest part of waist over your skirt to where tape measure meets in front. The number of inches shown by your tape is your proper waist measure.

FRONT LENGTH OF SKIRT: Measure from smallest part of waist in front, or natural waist line, down to whatever length is desired.

Merchandise shipped by mail takes the parcel post rates.

The map in the lower part of this page will show you what zone your postoffice is in from Chicago. If in doubt ask your postmaster or carrier.

To find out what the postage charges will be on your order, compare the total shipping weight (the catalog description of each item gives the weight) with this table, which gives the charges for packages of various weights to the different parcel post zones.

The zone rates do not apply to packages weighing four ounces or less, which are carried for one cent an ounce regardless of distance.

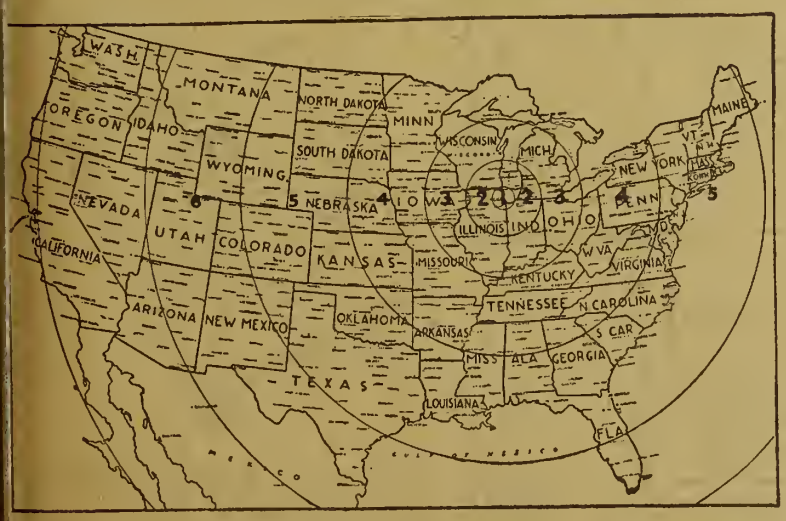
Books weighing eight ounces or less may be mailed for one-half cent an ounce. Books weighing over eight ounces are charged for by the pound, the rate per pound varying according to the zone to which the package must be carried.

Liquids may be shipped by parcel post in single glass bottles not exceeding sixteen ounces and in bottles of four ounces or less each when the total weight does not exceed twenty-four ounces. The weight limit for liquids in sealed metal containers is the same as for other parcel post matter.

Unmailable Articles.

Some few articles in the Drug Line and explosive or poisonous articles are not mailable—cannot be sent by Parcel Post. These articles are so marked in the descriptions.

Size and Weight Limits



Packages weighing up to seventy pounds each may be mailed to any postoffice in zones one, two and three. Packages which do not exceed fifty pounds in weight may be mailed to all zones.

Packages having a combined length and girth of more than seven feet may not be mailed by parcel post. Measurement should be made by running a tape around the package the short way and to this adding the length of the long side.

Revenue Tax

In addition to the rates shown here the war revenue bill requires a tax of one cent for each twenty-five cents of postage or fraction thereof on packages bearing twenty-five cents or more postage.

This Map Shows You What Zone Your Post Office Is In From Chicago

Locate the State in which you live on above map. The figure inside the circle passing through the portion of the state in which your town is located will indicate your parcel post zone. Your postmaster will cheerfully give you any additional information you may require.

How to Figure Express Charges

Express is a quick and safe method of shipping. The express agent in your town will explain his company's service, and will tell you the correct charges on any shipment.

For your convenience we give on this page a scale by which you can figure the charges on small express packages from one to fifty pounds. For instance—by referring to the table on page 593 under heading "Table Showing Freight And Express Rates," you will find that the Express rate per hundred pounds to St. Cloud, Minn., is $2.91. If your order weighs 10 lbs. you will find by the scale below that 10 lbs. at the rate of $2.91 per hundred pounds will cost 54c. If the rate per hundred pounds is $3.46, and your package weighs 15 pounds, the express charge would be 75c. These rates do not apply to Groceries, however. The express charge on Groceries is one-fourth less than the charge on other merchandise.

Scale of First-Class Express Charges

This is an official scale of Graduated Charges used by all Express Companies.

These rates are those in effect when this Catalog was printed. They are subject to change. In the column below under your express rate for one hundred pounds, will be found the amount you will have to pay on express shipments from one to fifty pounds. If the exact weight of your goods or the rate to your station is not shown, refer to the next higher rate or weight, and the result will be within a few cents of the correct charge. The charge on Food Stuffs, however, is one-fourth less than the charge on other merchandise.

Take the weight of your order and figure charges according to this scale. If the shipment consists of Food Stuffs three-quarters of the result will be the correct charge.

Remington Rifle and Revolver Ammunition

The importance of using the right ammunition cannot be exaggerated. It makes no difference how perfect the mechanism of a gun may be, it is simply a machine to hold and discharge the bullet. Cartridge-making has become an exact science. The explosive charge must be adjusted and primed to the bullet. The stretching and shaping of the copper or brass shell, the arrangement of means for igniting the powder, the packing of the powder charge all are important mechanical details requiring skill and accurate machinery. The determination of the weight, shape, size and composition of the bullet and of the amount, quantity and kind of powder to be used must all be determined by exact scientific rules. All of these things have been carefully considered in the manufacture of the ammunition which we offer you on these pages.

Our prices are as low as can be offered on standard ammunition.

We ship ammunition by freight or express with other goods if desired.

Ammunition cannot be shipped by parcel post. We do not send cartridges C.O.D.

Metallic cartridges, loaded with smokeless powder are the same shape and size as regular black powder cartridges but have fewer grains of powder in them. We advise using only factory loaded smokeless cartridges. Soft point bullets are provided with a metal patch on the point. When the bullet strikes, this patch of harder metal causes the lead bullet to expand in the animal tissue. The full metal case bullets have greater penetration. Please note that all cartridges quoted here have lead bullets unless otherwise stated.

It Pays to Use the Best

No matter how good a gun you may have, it can not properly do its work unless you give it good ammunition. More than that, if you use other than the best shells you are taking a chance of keeping your gun in good condition. Each shell described on this page may be depended upon to be the best in its class. They are the kind that bring down the game. The Remington U. M. C. shells are loaded with two thick black edge wads and one cardboard wad over the powder and one thin cardboard wad over the shot. Our other line, U. S. Cartridge Company shells, are loaded in much the same manner and will give absolute satisfaction.

Why Gun Barrels Burst

This note is of interest to every gun owner. Gun barrels do not hurst, of course, without a cause. Usually that cause is one of which the shooter does not know, but nevertheless, no one is responsible hut himself. Gun harrels can only hurst by having some obstruction In the harrel, or hy overloading with nitro powder. Any gun harrel can he hurst hy misuse or by carelessly loading smokeless powder, but no barrel will burst by using factory-loaded ammunition, provided there is no obstruction or foreign substance inside the harrel. When a gun harrel hursts at the breach or chamher, it is caused by an overloaded shell, and when it hursts in the center or near the muzzle, it is caused hy some obstruction, such as a dent, snow, mud, etc.

Our hunting clothing has been selected with the greatest care. The workmanship is of the best. These garments are perfectly stitched and are cut with extra fullness in the armholes, elbows, and throughout the skirt, giving perfect ease and comfort. The most important factors in a hunting coat are perfect arm and shoulder play provided with plenty of pocket room, material which stands the wear and tear of the bushes and a color that blends with nature's coloring. Our hunting coats are all that can be desired in these respects.

How To Measure

When measuring for a coat or vest put tape around chest close up under arms over shirt. If chest is 40 inches order a size 40 coat if you do not intend to wear more than an ordinary shirt under the hunting coat. For pants, measure around waist and inseam from close up in crotch to heel.
Be sure to give size of coat, vest and pants.

Write Us For Special Quotations

If you desire a larger size seine, trammel or gill net, netting by the pound or anything special in this line which we do not quote on this page, write us for special prices. We will be glad to offer you the lowest possible market price on your requirements.

Meshes are sometimes measured stretched, but the sizes we give are for a square mesh. A seine mesh is diamond shape and a 1-inch square mesh measures 1 inch on each of the four sides of 2 inches stretched. A 1½-inch mesh would measure 1½ inches on each side of 3 inches stretched.

Haloid Developing Paper

This Developing Paper, manufactured by the Haloid Company Rochester, N. Y., is a product of the highest and most dependable quality. It is exceedingly simple to manipulate and prints upon it are the best prints possible in depth, brilliancy and richness. When ordering specify our article number of grade and surface wanted.

Normal Grade—For negatives, normal strength, neither too thin nor too contrasty.

Hard or Contrast Grade—For printing from negatives that are soft or the image weak.

The Glossy Surface is most often used in making record pictures or where a snappy picture with minute detail is wanted.

The Haloid Semi-Matte and Rexo Semi-Matte are all about the same surface, having a Semi-Gloss, finely grained Matte finish of a soft, velvety texture. This is the most popular surface and is used extensively on all classes of photographs.

The Haloid Matte and Rexo Matte have about the same lusterless Matte surface without gloss or sheen. This surface is used on all classes of photographs. Shipping weight, per dozen, 2 to 7 oz. Per ½ gross, 8 to 20 oz., according to size. The gloss finish is a high luster finish.

Excelsior Blue Print Paper

Making prints on blue print paper is the simplest process for producing a photographic print. It is not necessary to have any knowledge of photography to be able to use this paper, and no chemicals of any kind are required. The paper is printed in sunlight, the same as gelatin printing-out paper, and then washed in clear water, which completes the process. Artistic prints of brilliant blue and white are easily made in this way. Prints possess a brilliancy and clearness in our opinion not equalled by any other blue print paper. The paper is packed in air tight cans, two dozen sheets to a can. Shipping weight, 2 to 8 oz.

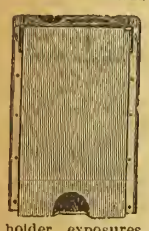
Improved Double Plate Holder



With Patented Light Trap Wood-Bar for Holding Plate. Will fit all Rogers, Black Beauty, Seneca, Premo, Century and Conley Plate Cameras.

Patented Light Trap makes it impossible to fog plate. Wooden bar holds plates securely in position making it easy to load the holder. Holders fitted with specially lacquered black press-board slides that will not electrify, collect dust, crack or split. One side of slide handle is marked, making it easy to indicate which plate has been exposed. We advise the purchase of six holders as they will just hold the contents of one box of dry plates.

Riverside Tires

The use of our Riverside Tires is becoming more popular each day. To obtain nearly absolute freedom from tire trouble you can do no better than to fit your bicycle with a pair of Riversides. The use of two layers of tough motorcycle fabric makes these tires long lasting. The tread is an unique design which appears very attractive on the wheel and has a tendency to cling to wet pavements, thus avoiding all possibility of skidding. The air tube is of heavy gauge rubber. This special construction acts as a check against objects which would naturally puncture the usual tire. They are made in single tube type only, which are cemented on the regular crescent rim. Furnished in three color treads, red, white and black, with white side walls. 28 inch size. American Flashlights Are the Very Best American Flashlights are the very highest grade in both workmanship and material. They are furnished in both vulcanized fibre and nickel finish. The fibre cases are made from the best fine grained fibre obtainable and fitted with heavily nickeled trimmings. The nickel cases are made from seamless brass tubing, heavily plated, presenting an unusually attractive appearance. Both types are non-short-circuiting, preventing accidental short-circuiting of batteries on contact with metals. All American flashlights are equipped with Mazda Lamps of the latest improved type and reflector of original design which gives the right diffusion of light.

One of the big features of American Tubular Flashlights is the double contact switch, permitting either a flash or continuous light. This contact is a distinct improvement over the ordinary combination push button and permanent switch in that the two contacts work independently of each other, always insuring a positive connection between lamp and battery.

The shock absorber as illustrated in the sectional view is so constructed as to eliminate direct contact between lamp and battery. It protects the base of lamp from breakage caused by ordinary falls or jolts. All tubular flashlights on this page are equipped with a shock absorber with the exception of 63C2021 and 2022.

American Batteries

American flashlight batteries are all of standard size and will fit any make flashlight. They are of the very best quality. Actual tests have shown that on intermittent service they are excelled by none. We guarantee them to equal the burning life of any kind of flashlight battery and we will replace any that are not satisfactory.

When ordering batteries measure the old one and order size required by article number.

While it embodies every worth while present day feature, it has fewer parts than most other plants and is so simplified that anyone with any knowledge of ordinary farm machinery can operate it with the instructions we furnish.

The engine has an air cooled head and a thermo-syphon water cooled cylinder, combining the desirable features of both systems. There is no wasted power driving a fan or a water pump. Head can be easily taken off for grinding the valves or removing the carbon. Water does not need to be disconnected. There is no trouble with gaskets as a new one can be made in a minute or two from an ordinary piece of wrapping paper.

SEMI-AUTOMATIC. This Superior Powerlite Unit Plant is semi-automatic in operation. It starts with the push of a switch, no hand cranking is necessary, and stops automatically when the batteries are fully charged.

LARGE CAPACITY. This plant should not be compared with the smaller plants on the market. It has a large, sturdy ball bearing generator with a normal capacity of 1,000 watts at 1150 R.P.M. and will develop 1,250 watts with a nominal rise in temperature. Generator alone will light 50 20-watt lamp continuously.

POWERLITE STORAGE BATTERY. The storage batteries we furnish with our Powerlite Unit Plant are acknowledged to be equal to the very best batteries of this type on the market. See complete description and guarantee below.

BURNS KEROSENE. The Powerlite Unit Plant Engine has an air cooled head which permits the use of kerosene as fuel without any special adjustment. A few drops of gasoline for priming is all that is necessary for starting. One gallon of kerosene will run it for 5 hours on a charging rate of 18 amperes and will completely charge the 80 ampere hour battery. This makes it equal or superior to any plant on the market in fuel economy.

Easy to Install and Operate

These plants are shipped to you so that they are ready to use when you receive them. The batteries come to you fully charged. Connect up the wires from switchboard to the batteries and house wires and you can then turn on your lights. These few connections are plainly marked so that there is no chance of making them other than correctly. After the plant is set up any member of the family who knows anything about farm machinery can operate it.

An instruction book written in plain terms so that anyone can understand it, is furnished with every plant. You do not have to know anything about electricity to install and operate our Powerlite Plants.

Powerlite Storage Batteries

The batteries supplied with our Powerlite Plants are acknowledged to be the very best batteries, equal or superior to any other on the market. They are of the pasted plate type, sealed in glass jars. The plates are extra large and heavy and the extra large sediment space beneath the plates lengthens the life of the battery. They are shipped to you fully charged so that when you receive your plan and set it up, it is ready for service.

Our batteries not only bear standard ratings, which are based on the number of amperes that can be drawn from them in eight hours, but also the intermittent rating. Some companies use only the latter method of rating their batteries, indicating a correspondingly higher rating. Where comparisons are made be sure that the comparison is made on the same basis of rating.

If you already have an Electric Plant and your original set of batteries has become exhausted, order a set of these batteries. They will replace the original storage batteries of any make or type 32 volt Farm Electric (Lighting) Plants. They work satisfactorily no matter what make of batteries was originally with the plant. Price includes 16 complete cells of batteries together with the necessary connecting bolts and straps. All sets carefully crated and packed. We guarantee safe delivery.

Our Guarantee on Powerlite Batteries

We guarantee these batteries to give lighting service for 3½ years, when installed and operated according to our instructions, and when they are recharged not oftener than twice a week. If for any reason the battery proves defective or does not give good service within the 3½ years' period we will replace it on the basis of service rendered. If, for example, some part of or the whole battery should prove defective at the end of two years, we will replace it for 4/7 of the cost of a new battery. If the battery should last only one year, we would replace it for 2/7 of the cost of a new battery, etc. In this way, you are assured that you will only be obliged to pay for the actual service you get from your battery.

While our guarantee applies for only 3½ years, these batteries when properly cared for will give much longer service—5 years or more, usually, and many of these batteries have been in service for 8 years. Actual tests show that Powerlite batteries have, on the average, over 100% capacity at the end of 450 cycles and approximately 75% capacity after 600 cycles of charge and discharge. 600 cycles are equivalent to 10 years average service.

Our telephones are guaranteed to be the very best.

Large Size Powerlite Belted Electric Plant

The Biggest Value for the Money

These plants consist of three units, the generator, batteries and switchboard, connected together with the necessary wires. These three parts together with a gasoline or kerosene engine give you a dependable working plant at low cost that will give constant service at any hour of the day or night. The plant is shipped to you so that it is ready to use when you receive it. The batteries have been given their first charge. Connect up the wires from switchboard to the batteries and generator and from the switchboard to the house wires and you can then turn on your lights. These few connections are plainly marked so that there is no chance of making them other than correctly.

When you want to recharge the batteries, start your engine by means of the starting switch. Hand cranking is not necessary unless your engine is over 5 H. P. The lights may be used while the battery is being recharged if you wish. An instruction book written in plain terms so that anyone can understand it, is furnished with every plant. You do not have to know anything about electricity to install and operate your Powerlite Belted Plants.

Operated with any Farm Engine 2½ H. P. or Larger

As many of our customers already have a good farm engine which they wish to use to operate their electric plant, we list these plants without engines. This type plant will furnish you current at the least outlay for the plant and also at the least cost for the current. You can belt the generator to the fly wheel of your engine and charge your battery while your engine is doing other work. In this way the cost of current to you is very little. About 2½ horse power is required to drive the generator when operated at full capacity. If the engine you intend to use is installed in a weather-tight building and there is room in the same building for the lighting plant, put the complete plant in that building. If the building is liable to become very cold in the winter, it would be advisable to put the batteries in the basement of your house or in some convenient warm building.

The Generator

The Generator furnished with our Powerlite Plants is a large sturdy generator with a capacity of 40 volts, 25 amperes—1,000 watts when operated at a speed of 1,800 R.P.M. It is of the four-pole type, insuring high efficiency, continuous service and an even flow of current. The rating given is the continuous load capacity and the generator can deliver 25 per cent more current than its rated capacity, without excessive heating. Large ring oiling bearings cast of high grade special composition bearing metal. This generator will last a lifetime under ordinary conditions and requires no attention other than oiling every month and having the brushes renewed every few years. The direction in which the generator should be driven is clearly marked on the top. Equipped with a sliding base so that the belt slack can be taken up without moving the floor fastenings.

To get the best results from your plant it is important that this generator be operated at the proper speed (1,800 R.P.M.). In order that we may determine what size pulley you should have we must know the speed of your engine, also the diameters of the fly wheel and driving pulley. Give us this information when sending your order and we will supply the pulley on the generator of the proper diameter without extra charge.

Regular pulley equipment: Diameter, 4 inches; face, 4 inches. Shipping weight of generator complete, 150 pounds.

Price of Generator Separately

We can supply the generator of our Powerlite Plant separately. It can be used with or without the switchboard for charging automobile storage batteries, running motors, etc.

The Switchboard

On the switchboard are mounted the necessary instruments to control the operation of the plant and indicate the flow and pressure of the current. The board itself is made of oil finished black Marine slate of the best quality and highest insulating properties. Size of slate, 24x16 inches. All instruments used are of the finest quality and are especially designed and built for these plants.

The operation of the board is very simple. To start the engine, the starting switch is thrown over to the starting side and then thrown back after engine is started. To raise or lower the charging rate, the rheostat hand control is revolved as indicated. There are no further operations to be performed when charging the batteries.

The Ampere Meter indicates the amperes or amount of current flowing. When the generator is charging it indicates the rate of charge, when current is being used it indicates the rate of discharge.

The Voltmeter indicates the voltage or pressure of the current.

The Rheostat enables you to regulate the amount of current generated by the generator. Simply turning the hand control, raises or lowers the charging rate as desired.

The Reverse Current Relay is the heart of the plant. The instrument used on our plants is most dependable at all times and will operate satisfactorily indefinitely.

The Starting and Generator Switch enables you to use your generator as a motor in cranking your engine, making it unnecessary to crank the engine (if not over 5 H.P. size) by hand. This same switch is also used to connect the generator and battery during the charging period.

The Voltmeter Switch cuts the voltmeter out of the circuit when reading is not desired. This saves considerable current and is one of the features of this switchboard.

The Line Fuses are placed in the line circuit. Their function is to protect the battery from too great a discharge, caused by short circuits on the line, etc. The cases of the fuses are of glass, making it easy to see when they have "blown."

Battery Fuse is placed between generator and battery.

Switchboard is fitted with brackets so that it can be mounted on the floor or on the wall as desired.

These motors are especially adapted for operating machinery which starts with a light load. Can be attached to any lighting socket, although special feed line is better for the ½ H. P. size. Very simple, rugged, efficient motors designed for continuous hard service. Equipped with high grade ball bearings. Have a 150% starting torque, yet because of design they require less starting current than most single phase motors. Maximum temperature rise 40° C on full load. No windings on rotor. Black enamel finish. Runs either direction. Speed 1800 R.P.M. Prices include pulley, adjustable sliding base and centrifugal starting switch. We do not recommend this motor for water pump duty or for use where the starting load is heavy. See Induction Repulsion Motors on this page.

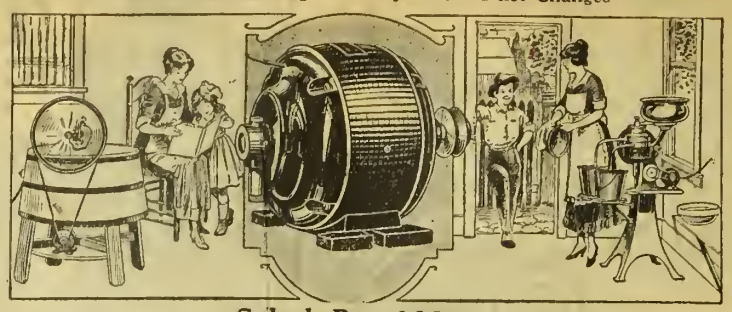
Fractional Horse Power Motors

Intermittent Duty—Split Phase Type.

$22.95

For use on 105 to 120 volt, 60 cycle, single phase, alternating current.

These motors are used to operate grinders, churns, ice cream freezers and many other light machinery devices. In the home or work shop they can be put to work on a great variety of jobs.



They are the split phase intermittent duty type. One pronounced characteristic of this type of motor is the heating that takes place when they are in use. Soon after being started they will heat up about 40 degrees centrigrade above the surrounding air. No further heating will occur unless motors are overloaded. This characteristic is not objectionable under most conditions, but should be taken into consideration when purchase is made.

These motors will carry a 100% overload for a short time. Have a starting pull 50% greater than their rated power. They incorporate the latest developments in this type of motor and are very carefully constructed. Black enamel finish. Perfect lubrication. Phosphor bronze bearings. No windings on rotor. Pulley is 1¾ in. effective diameter for ⅜ inch round belt. Shaft diam., ½ in.

Can be attached to any lighting socket. Speed about 1,750 R. P. M. Complete with heavy 10 ft. cord and attaching plug.

Splash Proof Motor

Particularly intended for use on washing machines, cream separators, churns. A liberal quarter horse power motor.

For use in places where liquids, such as water and milk are liable to be splashed on to it. Water cannot hurt it. Ends are carefully enclosed to entirely exclude any ordinary splash, but are yet arranged to allow free air circulation for cooling. This motor will provide electric power for a great variety of small machines. With it most any hand power washer with a revolving balance wheel can be easily made into an electric. The cream separator, churn, ice cream freezer and similar machines can be driven with it. Can be attached to any lighting socket. Fitted with 10-foot cord and attaching plug. Speed about 1750 R. P. M. Develops better than ¼ horse power and will carry a temporary 50% overload with but slight raise in temperature. Grooved pulley, effective diameter 1¼ inches for ⅜ inch round belt. Pulleys, Round Belting and Attaching Cord

For Fractional H. P. Motors

When ordering a motor less than 1 H.P. it is very essential that you determine whether the pulley supplied will run your machinery at the proper speed. The pulleys supplied with our motors are the ones most commonly used but for those who require pulleys of a different size, we can supply them as listed below.

To find what size pulley you should use, multiply the diameter in inches of the pulley on the machine to be driven by its revolutions per minute (R.P.M.) and divide by the R.P.M. of the motor. The result gives you the diameter in inches of the pulley you should use on the motor.

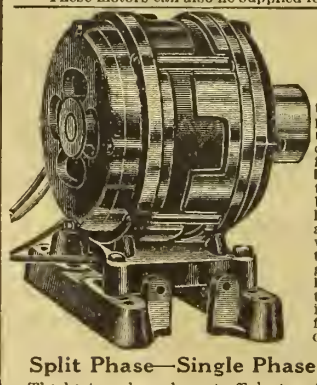
Induction Repulsion Motors

For Use on 110 or 220 Volt, 60 Cycle, Single Phase Alternating Current



These motors are especially desirable for operation on lighting circuits to operate apparatus requiring a heavy starting pull. They draw a comparatively low amperage from the line when starting, yet have a starting torque of over 200% of the full load torque and accelerate rapidly. These characteristics distinguish them from the split phase type of motors and make them especially desirable for operating pumps, cream separators and all other machines starting under a heavy load.

Bronze oil ring bearings, slide rails on 1 and 2 H. P. Black enamel finish. Wound rotor. Copper bar commutator with rugged short circuiting device. Speed 1750 R.P.M.

Large Power Induction Motors

Squirrel Cage Type

Although the prices we quote on these motors are much lower than prices asked for most other makes of motors of the same power, we guarantee them to equal in performance any make of motor, regardless of price. These modern power motors are dependable and simple. They incorporate the most modern features of construction. Very efficient at both full and light loads. Their high power factor makes them very desirable from the central station viewpoint. They are all fitted with high grade ball bearings. The bearing at the pulley end being several sizes larger than the bearing at the other end in order to give ample strength to take care of belt pull. When properly installed they will give many years of reliable service with no attention other than an occasional oiling. The temperature rise is low and is guaranteed to be not over 40 degrees centigrade rise on continuous load operation. Motors can be wired to operate in either direction. Guaranteed to come within the specifications of the American Institute of Electric Engineers and are further guaranteed for a period of one year to be free from any electrical or mechanical defect.

Split Phase—Single Phase Type

The best made and most efficient motor of this type. For driving line shafts or for running any machinery starting on a light load, these motors will give very satisfactory service. They are not recommended for pump duty or for use where the starting load is heavy. See Induction Repulsion Motors.

These motors are suitable for operating all classes of machinery where high efficiency and economy are desired. They have a starting torque (or pull) of over 200% of the full load torque, which well adapts them for use on pumps and other work having a heavy starting load. Prices include pulley and adjustable sliding base on all motors. Prices do not include starters. The sizes 5, 7½, 10 and 15 H.P. motors are furnished with six leads brought out so that the motors can be started by the use of the Y-Delta starting arrangement. If the Y-Delta starting arrangement will not give a sufficient starting torque, then any standard compensator may be used. Prices on compensators quoted on request.

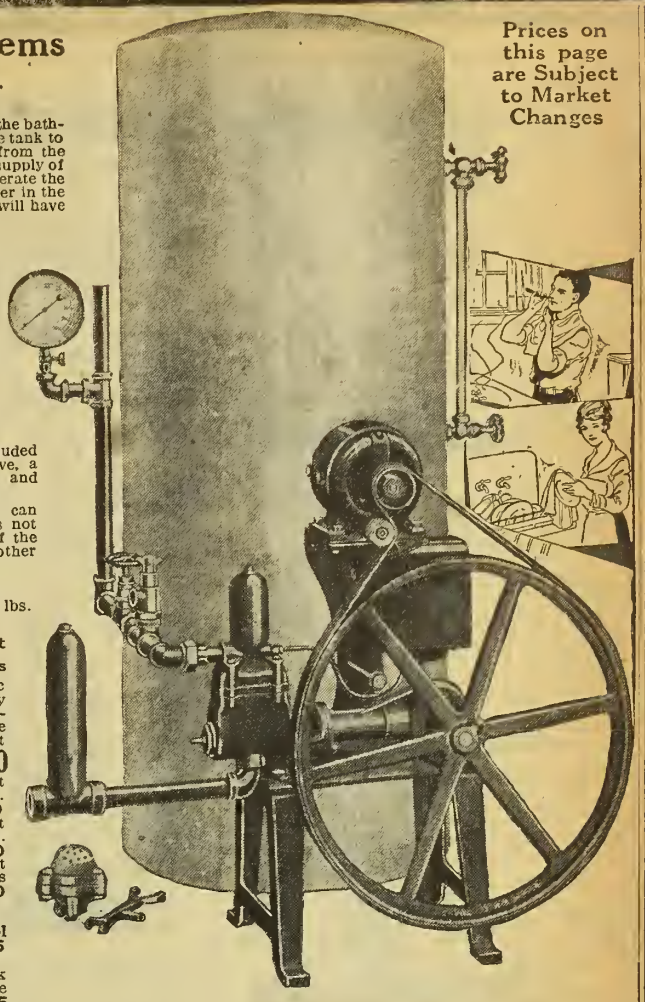
Automatic Electric Water Systems

For City or Country Homes Having Electrical Power

This automatic electric water system will supply you with running water in the bathroom, kitchen, laundry, dairy, stable or any other part of your farm. Attach the tank to the house supply pipe, connect the motor to your electric wires, run a pipe from the pump to the well or cistern and the system is ready for operation. A reserve supply of water is always stored in the tank. The motor automatically starts to operate the pump when the supply falls below a certain level in the tank. When the water in the tank is raised sufficiently the motor stops automatically so that you always will have an ample supply of water, practically without any attention.

TANK—The tank is made of sheet steel coated to prevent rusting. We provide two size tanks, 50 gallon which is large enough for the ordinary 5 or 6 room home and 100 gallon size which is intended for larger homes. The house supply connection takes a ½ inch size pipe.



PUMP—The pump on our outfit is a fine piece of workmanship, with brass-lined cylinder. All working parts are enclosed in a dust-proof case and run constantly in an oil bath. On both suction and discharge lines of the pump an air chamber is used which prevents friction and pound in the lines and makes possible satisfactory intermittent service. The water cylinder is fitted with an air intake valve for supplying air to replace that lost by absorption in the water. The pump has a capacity of 180 gallons per hour against 50 pounds maximum pressure. Suction connection size, ¾ inch.

AUTOMATIC SWITCH The automatic switch starts and stops the motor as the reserve supply in the tank demands. Switch starts motor when pressure falls to 25 pounds, and stops it at about 45 pounds.

MOTOR—The motor is especially suited for pump operation and can be supplied in any voltage required. Develops full power and can be used for operating many other devices in addition to water plant if desired.

VALVES AND GAUGES — Included in the equipment is a relief valve, a shut-off valve, pressure gauge and water gauge.

SPECIAL NOTE.—These outfits can only be used where the pump is not over 22 feet above the surface of the water in the well, cistern or other source of supply.

Electric Transformers

Farmers living in territory through which electric transmission lines run will find that arrangements usually can be made with the Electric Company to obtain current from such lines. This service is supplied by running branch lines from the main line to the farm to be serviced. At the farm the current is stepped down by a transformer from the transmission voltage to 110 and 220 volts, which voltages are used for light and power purposes. These transformers compare favorably with the best and highest priced transformers on the market. The "core loss" is very low and the efficiency is high. These features make them desirable from the operating company's standpoint. All other points of construction have been carefully and scientifically worked out by capable electrical engineers resulting in a thoroughly reliable transformer. If interested in technical details write us for further information. All sizes of transformers are oil cooled. Original filling of oil included in price. Have cast iron cases treated with rust resisting compound. Hanger irons included in price. Primary wiring arranged so that transformers can be connected separately for single service or in banks of two or three for three-phase service. Secondary circuit is arranged to provide both 110 and 220 volt service. For lighting service and small power service single transformers are recommended. For power service of over 5 H. P. banks of two or three transformers wired for three phase service are recommended. For motors under 5 H. P. allow 1½ K. V. A. per H. P.; over 5 H. P. 1 K.V.A. per H.P. is sufficient. On lighting service 1 K. V. A. will care for 50 20-watt lamps or their equivalent.

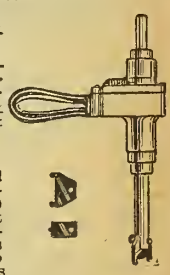
Universal Electric Drills and Valve Grinders



For the manufacturing plant, workshop, garage, or farm, electric drills have proven to be great time and money savers. With them, drilling and many other operations can be done better and in a fraction of the time required to do the same operations by hand or old methods. The UNIVERSAL ELECTRIC DRILLS we offer are the highest grade drills, equal in service and durability to the very best. Have the balance and "feel" so much appreciated by all real mechanics. Light in weight and will give maximum service under the most severe use.

Body of the drills is made entirely of aluminum carefully machined. In the ⅜-inch size the planetary system of gearing is used, compounded with gears to offset chuck spindle. In the ½-inch size, worm drive gears are used. This avoids strains and overloads on bearings and motor. Anti-friction bearings used on armature shaft, gears are heat treated and run in oil. Supplied with Jacob's chuck and key, switch in handles; 10 foot waterproof cord and attaching plug.

Read This Before You Order Bridging Telephones

If a line is already in opperation in your neighborhood, and you wish to go in on it, no matter if the instruments already in use are not of our make, you can use our telephones on that line.

All the telephones on any one line must have Ringer movements wound to the same resistance in ohms. The resistance in ohms is always stamped plainly somewhere on the Ringer movements of all phones. Find out the resistance of those already installed on the line and order yours with ringer movements of the same resistance.

Condensers

All our bridging telephones are provided with condenser loops so that condensers can be easily installed if desired. If all telephones on the line are equipped with condensers, and the party you wish to call has his receiver on the hook, you can easily call him, no matter how many other receivers are off the hook. In this way, condensers greatly improve the service on any line. Condensers can be used on metallic or grounded lines.

Important

In ordering springs for metal beds, give extreme outside width in inches from rail to rail. In ordering springs for wood beds, give length of bed slats in inches. Standard size beds of all widths are 76 inches long. If your bed is standard length, you need not mention the length. For special length beds give inside measurements from bead to foot. Springs for wood beds are made to fit inside the bed rails with space to tuck bedding all around. They rest on bed slats. Springs for metal beds have metal projections which rest on top of the side rails of the bed. Springs for wood beds may be used on metal beds with slats.

A high-grade double deck spring. Very resilient and comfortable. The small picture clearly shows how the double deck deep spiral springs are set; one above the other. The coils in the bottom tier are securely locked in position in notches in the steel foundation bars. The coils on the edge of the spring are shorter than the others, so firmness is given to the edge where most needed and the tendency to rock, common in some double deck springs is overcome. Heavy cable wire edge. Rustless, black Japan finish. When furnished for wood beds, both sides are made alike, making a reversible spring which rests on slats. No slats are needed with the metal bed spring as the overhanging side bars hook over the side rails of the bed.

End view, showing improved method of setting spirals.

Round Corners

The round corners make your bed look better when it is made up.

One good point to remember in making your selection is that Wardway labeled mattresses bear all the good faith that the name implies. In the style pictured above, the carefully selected grades of pure white cotton stocks used for the filling are drawn, spun and felted into fleecy layers of uniform thickness by special machinery. The layers are then placed evenly one on another and compressed so that the covering can be pulled over them smoothly. The ticking used is a fine quality sateen in an attractive floral design which will please particular tastes. The mattress is then finished in the most reliable and up-to-date manner. It has an Imperial Roll Edge, strong tufting, round corners and side handles.

Introducing Our CARPET & RUG SECTION

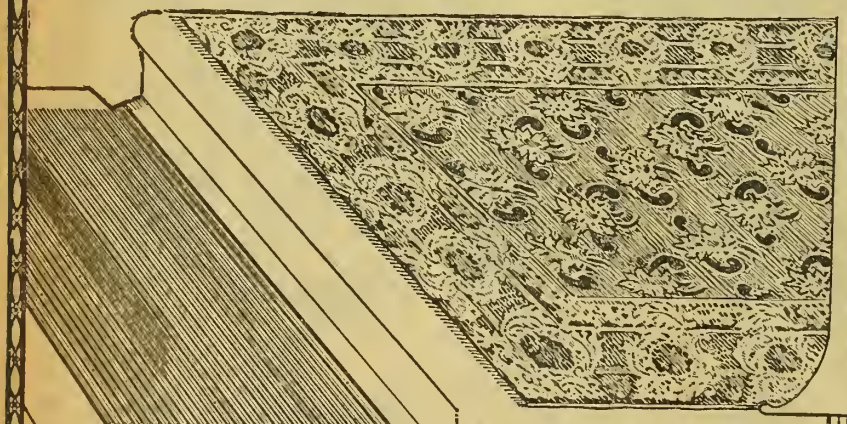
Rugs make the house homelike. A house without rugs is bare and cheerless—incomplete. The Arab of the desert, living in a tent, moving from place to place, uses his rugs to make his humble quarters into a home, even as we in more civilized surroundings use our rugs and carpets to make our more substantial abodes homelike and comfortable.

Realizing the importance of floor coverings in the decoration of the millions of homes in America, we have expended every effort in an endeavor to present to you on the following pages a display of floor coverings that will enable you to choose the particular design and quality to suit your needs. We have drawn upon the floor covering stocks of the world so that we may serve you with satisfaction.

An Explanation of Our "Three Qualities"

You don't have to guess about the quality of our house furnishings. For the convenience of our customers we ha e graded our rugs, carpets, linoleums, curtains, curtain materials and window shades into these three grades. Fair, good and best. An explanation of these grades is given below so whenever you see any of these terms used in the description of any of the merchandise mentioned on these pages you will have a better understanding of the quality.

Fair Grade. Means cheapest quality that we handle, but not always the cheapest made. We refuse to handle merchandise because of price alone. Every article must have real merit.



Good Grade. This quality we have found from long experience, the great majority of our customers buy. Every article in this grade is an excellent value for the price asked and will give good service.

Our Best Grade. You cannot make a more satisfactory purchase from our catalog than by buying merchandise of this grade. Only under this grade are listed our highest qualities. This does not mean, however, that this is the best quality made, but the best quality for which there is a reasonably large demand. There are fancier qualities made in some lines, but we have found that our customers would prefer not to pay the difference in price. They want full value for every penny they spend.

Refer to This Table for Amount of Carpet Needed

We have compiled below a table of the most wanted room sizes and after each size show the number of yards of carpet required to make a carpet or rug of this size. The necessary waste for matching has been included in these figures and this will be returned with the carpet. When ordering a carpet always state how you want the stripes to run—that is the long or short way of the room. If this is not mentioned we will cut the carpet to the best advantage. Prices for sewing carpets are given on page 768.

CARPETINGS OF

Interesting Carpet Facts

Power-made carpet was first made in an American city by an American mill and on an American invention. That was in the year 1839, at Lowell, Massachusetts, where E. B. Bigelow perfected a power-driven loom for the manufacture of ingrain carpet.

Previous to that all carpet was woven on hand looms. It was slow work and hard. A good weaver could hardly produce more than 5 yards of ingrain carpet in a day. It is interesting to note that while the total production of the carpets in America in the year 1810, amounted to less than 10,000 yards, the carpets now produced with power-driven looms total 200,000,000 yards annually.

Inventions and improvements in carpet making have given America first place in the carpet weaving industry and have placed beautiful floor coverings within reach of virtually every home. You have on these pages a wide choice of patterns from the best manufacturers. It is a recognized fact that a high-grade American carpet cannot be excelled for general home usage and satisfactory service.

REGAL SPLENDOR

About Carpets

As you walk across a carpet or study the pattern, have you ever wondered where the wool comes from for its weaving? Good carpets usually contain blends of different fleeces. Some of them may come from the slopes of the Andes, and others from the mountainous vales of Thibet or the Caucacus, from the Arabian mountains and the highlands of Scotland, from the uplands of Persia and from China.

Think of the weight of countless footsteps which a carpet must absorb and still "come back" soft and springy after years and years of wear. So in order to make the right yarn for a good carpet, it is necessary to blend wools, perhaps from many far-away places.

From all this you can easily see the advantage of long experience in selecting and blending wools for carpets. That is why you can select our carpets with perfect confidence. We offer you, on these pages, beautiful, serviceable carpets whose quality has placed them in thousands of the best homes throughout the country.

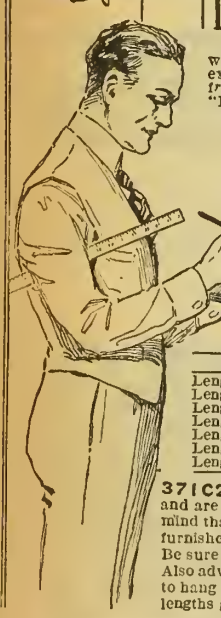
Inside Bracket Measure

If you plan to hang shades between the jambs of the window frames as shown above, then tell us the exact distances between the jambs in inches and fractions of an inch; and write this on your order "Inside Bracket Measure."

How to Order Special Size Window Shades.



Always give width measurements in inches and fraction of an inch. It is also important that you state how these measurements were taken, whether inside or outside bracket measure. Unless you specify type of measurement we will cut the cloth according to the measurements you give and outside brackets will he sent.

When ordering shades to match exactly in color be careful to order all of the same quality, as different qualities of cloth are made from different grades of material and positively will not match identical in color.

Outside Bracket Measure

If you plan to hang shades on the surface of window casing as shown here, give us exact measurements of distance from center of casing to center of casing. Make this notation on your order—"Outside Bracket Measure."
